Google Analytics

On our websites, we use Google Analytics, a web analytics tool provided by Google. This tool uses cookies that are stored on your computer and enable the analysis of your use of the website. The information about your use of the website collected by the cookie is usually sent to a Google server in the United States, where it is also stored. We use Google Analytics with the IP address anonymization function activated. This means that Google shortens the user's IP address within the member states of the European Union or other countries that are signatories to the Agreement on the European Economic Area before it is transferred to the USA. Only in exceptional cases is the entire IP address transferred to a Google server in the USA and shortened there. You can find more information about the terms of use and the protection of personal data at <http://policies.google.com> or at <https://policies.google.com/privacy>. Data processing by Google Analytics is carried out on the basis of (Article 6 (1) (a) GDPR) if you consent to the use of Google Analytics.
